The best carrying because of perfect springs, and bearings at proper points to give the breatest strength.

Easiest riding. A Wagon carrying 1500 lbs, rides as easy for one man as the best Phacton.

Most durable, because the combination of the Springs is such as to give perfect elasticity to the grar, thereby entirely obvisting the sclarpside motion and consequent strain on the Wagon to pass over all irregularities of the Road without winding or cacking the box, or jerking, or inconvenience to those riding. The binding of the circle, a necessity with all other Platform Wagon, is entirely obvisted, allowing the Wagon to fullow the road without croading the team from Ede to side.

Our Wagons are manufactured from choice material, by the best mechanics, thoroughly painted, with fine failsh and trim, and warrented. C. STEVENSON'S CENTENNIAL SQUABBLE,

As a sample: At the last meeting of the Board he was obliged to confess to Messrs. Yerington and Rice that he, by letter, while acting as Secretary of the Board, had furnished the Sentinel with data to make an unjust attack on the Board. At the same time another member was presont with a private letter from Whitehill, urging him to come, saying, "We want to oust Stevenson from the presidency," or words to that effect. Almost at the same time the Sentinel, Appeal and Reno Journal

It will be a burning shame to the people of this State if this Centennial business is to end in a farce, and $20,000 of their money squandered. The Enterprise has devoted considerable space in reviewing Mr. Whitehill's actions, or rather Mr. Stevenson has done so through the columns of the Enterprise. We can almost smell his breath as loudly in the article referred to as we did in the twocolumn article published in the Lyon Co. Times. Mr. Stevenson, in our opinion, is over anxious, being Chairman of the Centennial Commission, to inform the public what the Secretary has been doing. It seems, too, from all we have seen and heard, that he has made a mighty effort to create will be able to present all the facilisomething out of nothing. His genius seems to be in looking out for of learning, and then we shall eduthe mote in his neighbor's eye, instead of trying to remove the beam from his own. Consequently we think it only fair that the public State. should know what Mr. Stevenson has done that he should be held up as a martyr in the Centennial cause. What has he done? Just this much and no more: During the last session of the Legislature he got Judge Wells of Carson City to draw up a bill askgusted everybody, as it sounded very like the one which he read two years before when placing John P. Jones in nomination for the U.S. Senate. In his unbounded egotism he now imagines that this speech of a minute and a half secured the appropriation of $20,000. But everyone knows, who was in attendance on the last Legislature, that the passage of this bill had been secured weeks before at s/mass meeting held in the Assembly Chamber, when able speeches were made in its favor by Charles Varian, George Cassidy, Gen. Kittrell. Judge McClinton and othersany one of which did much more toward securing the passage of the Centennial bill than anything Mr. Stevenson ever did. He had on exthe Centennial fund. This is the sum and substance of what Mr. Stev. enson has done for the Centennial cause. Perhaps we shall be able to tell in another article what the Centennial has done for Mr. Stevenson,
